PRESIDENT RIPLEY TO ATTEND TAOS CELEBRATION

Santa Fe Executive and Wife and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hodges to Join A. B. Gaffey and Take Trip Through North

A trip long planned by President E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe railway will be taken this week when the president and his wife and Vice President W. E. Hodges and Mrs. Hodges will attend the fiesta of San Geronimo at Taos and will be conducting business on an extended trip through the woods of Taos and the Arriba country by A. B. Gaffey of this city, president of the Santa Fe Railway and his family, who have large holdings in that section. President Ripley and party arrived in Taos yesterday and will make the trip to the pueblo via the St. Louis, Denver and Pacific railway, and approximately A. B. Gaffey left last night for the north to join the party. The return trip will be made via Santa Fe after they have spent several days in Taos in the midst of the big timber in Taos and Rio Arriba country.

The trip will be purely a pleasure trip, said Mr. Ripley last night. In view of the fact, however, that the Santa Fe Railway company will have contingents of ties to the Santa Fe company and has enough standing timber to supply it with ties for fifty years, it is considered more than likely that Mr. Ripley will take a goodly share of some of the trees while he is on the trip.

DEMOCRATS HOPE TO WRITE THE CONSTITUTION

BELIEVE THEY CAN SWING INITIATIVE-REFERENDUM

Meeting of Territorial Central Committee Yesterday to Line Up Probable Policy to be Pursued by Delegates.

Notwithstanding that there will be seventy-one republican delegates in the constitutional convention to meet in Santa Fe on October 3, against twenty-nine democratic delegates, the territorial democratic central committee met in Albuquerque yesterday for the purpose of formulating a policy to be pursued by the democrats in the writing of the constitution.

Solemnly and confidentially, it was resolved to write the initiative and referendum into the constitution, leaving, however, such other so-called remedies like the recall and the corrupt practices of law, to be dealt with when occasion arises.
Hon. William H. Walton of Silver City, who is a delegate to the constitutional convention, presided over the various sessions of the committee yesterday in his capacity as chairman of the territorial organization.

"We are just drifting by our politics," said Mr. Walton yesterday evening, "and getting things in shape to do business at the convention. The committee will meet again in Santa Fe on October 3, at which the final details of organization and policy will be decided upon."

That the principal result of the meeting yesterday was a firm decision to incorporate the initiative and referendum into the constitution, was the statement made by J. M. Upton, who will represent Luna county in the convention. "Uncle Johnnie" Upton said he Luna county's only man in the convention, that county being apportioned only one delegate. Mr. Upton won out in Luna in a whirlwind campaign over his friend, Ralph C. Elz of Deming.

"We decided today that we will write the initiative and referendum in the constitution," said Mr. Upton, seriously.
The Luna county delegate, however, was noncommittal when asked whether the democrats would also make a fight to get in the recall and corrupt practices act.

Among those who attended the meeting yesterday were W. B. Walton of Silver City, A. A. Jones of Las Vegas, J. D. H. of Los Alamos, E. Aguilar of Mora, Charles E. Bailey of Santa Fe, Melton Torres of Socorro, J. M. Upton of Luna, O. N. Maroon, H. R. Ferguson and John S. Roaven of Albuquerque, and Felix Martinez of El Paso.

WALTON CONFIDENT THAT BREAK CLAUSES WILL CARRY

"I am quite confident that the initiative and referendum will be incorporated into the New Mexico constitution," said W. B. Walton of Silver City, yesterday. Mr. Walton, who is chairman of the democratic territorial central committee, was in Albuquerque to preside over the meeting of the committee.
The chairman expresses his entire confidence that the majority of the delegates are in favor of the direct legislation idea, and that while conditions vary in various counties as to the attitude of the delegates, some being pledged to the initiative and referendum, or one of them in a modified form, and some for the Oregon plan, the thing which counts out into a distinct majority in favor of the general idea. Consequently Mr. Walton figures that "in some form" the initiative and referendum will be adopted in the constitution. The chairman's remarks would indicate that the democrats are going to stand solidly for the provisions and put up a strong fight for their adoption, and count on a sufficient republican strength to carry their point if concessions are made on both sides.

CHAVES GIRL COMES HOME AS SUDDENLY AS SHE LEFT

Seventeen Year Old Young Lady Returns to Her Home Yesterday Noon; Had Been Staying With Belen Relatives.

Without giving any explanation other than she had become tired of living in Albuquerque and had been on a visit to relatives in Belen, Miss Barbara Chaves, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Chaves of 321 West Broadway avenue, who disappeared suddenly from the city more than two weeks ago, returned to her home at noon yesterday. The girl was apparently none the worse for her absence, and did not seem to appreciate the acute anxiety she had caused her family who had looked for her far and wide, fearing that something had happened to her.

Miss Chaves disappeared two weeks ago last Wednesday. She left home at 1 o'clock in the morning to go to work at the Leader store and was not seen again by any members of her family until yesterday noon. When questioned yesterday as to why she had not informed her parents of her whereabouts, the girl said that she had intended to do so, but had become ill in Belen and was under the impression that her relatives there had done so.

The disappearance of the girl was a deep mystery for nearly three weeks. Several of her relatives instituted a search which covered all of Bernalillo county and the police department had sent out search cards in various parts of the United States.

CENTRAL AVENUE IS NOW A STRAIGHT THOROUGHFARE

Sewer Laying Machine Completes Its Work and Moves On; Street Will be Blocked No Longer.

The work of laying the big sewer mains at the intersection of Fourth street and Central avenue, which has blocked traffic in both directions for nearly two weeks past, was completed yesterday and by this morning street cars and vehicles may proceed without detouring.

The dumpy engine and trenching machine were moved at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the Albuquerque Traction company immediately repaired its track and within an hour had extra-running straight through without interruption.

Street Commissioner Martin Tierney also placed a gang of men on the job of putting Fourth street in condition between Gold and Central avenues.

Copper teams will be blocked by standing against the first work of the day and traffic must move either on Gold, Central or Tulara avenues.

S. L. Chapman, Mason, Ky., says: I used Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve on my hands, which were sore, and find it the best I ever tried. It cured them completely.

INDIAN SCHOOL IS FILLED TO ITS CAPACITY

Little Wards of the Government All Want to be Educated, but There Isn't Enough Room for Everybody.

Business is prosperous out at the Albuquerque Indian school, north of town, the institution having a greater attendance this year than ever before during the opening week. The enrollment for the first week is well over the three hundred mark already and before the middle of October Superintendent Perry expects to have an enrollment six-hundred and fifty.

"Three hundred is our limit," said Mr. Perry yesterday. "That is, three hundred pupils are all we are supposed to care for with our appropriation. But by stretching a point and economizing in the matter of improvements, we will be able to care for three hundred and fifty. After this mark has been reached we will be compelled to decline further enrollment. Old pupils, of course, will be given preference in enrolling. The real small children who will have opportunities to go to school when they are older, will be sent to their homes to wait for another year."

"Things are running splendidly during the opening days," continued Mr. Perry, "and we confidently expect to have a very successful year."

FOR years past young men have gradually been discarding the use of suspenders for the belt. But there have been disadvantages, and sometimes discomforts; the trousers would slip down a little; and the underclothing worked up; not pleasant. Not necessary any more.

Hart Schaffner & Marx have designed a new model in suits; the Shape-maker. The trousers stay in place, even without a belt; they fit snugly to the body, and help to develop the erect, athletic figure so much desired by most men.

We'll fit you in the Shape-maker suit any day. Come and see it anyway. The best thing in clothes-making in the last 50 years.
